“Finding God at Silver Lake”

Hi. my name is Chris Wildman. I am in 7th grade. This year’s Christmas play at First Church is called, “Santa in the Woods.” It reminds me of a great camp I went to last summer, called Silver Lake. Now, you have to imagine a chapel, exactly like this one, just outside, in the woods. It is almost the same, but even more fun. You defiantly feel God when the wind is blowing in the chapel. This is because just the wind through your hair is the best feeling ever.

Also, they incorporate God through games and skits. One time, I was wrapped up in a blanket and carried like a fireman, because I was the baby Jesus in a Christmas skit. My friends and I were all laughing and I knew that God was there by my side. This is how I see God in the camp and in my life.
